My Kanta Pages and data protection

You can see your own health data and prescriptions in My Kanta Pages. It is also possible to view which healthcare unit or pharmacy has handled the information and when. Data protection is your basic right that safeguards your privacy.

Would you like to check in My Kanta Pages where your data has been handled?

1. Log in to omakanta.fi

Prescriptions
Open the prescription data by clicking the prescription issue date. On the bottom of the page under Sharing of data you can see where your prescription data has been processed.

Health data
On the left-hand menu there is a heading Sharing of health data. Here you can see the places your health data has been shared with.

3. If you recognise the service point as one you have visited, all is in order.

What to do if you suspect that your data has been misused:

Prescription data
Contact the data protection officer of the healthcare unit or pharmacy where the data has been processed. If necessary, you can ask Kela for the log data of the professionals who have handled your prescription data. The log data form is available at healthcare units, pharmacies and Kela offices.

Health data
Contact the data protection officer of the healthcare unit that has processed the data. You can ask for an account of the reasons for using your data and, if necessary, the log data of the professionals who have handled your health data.
