

Consents, situation 30.04.2023

This figure shows the number of persons who have at least once given their consent for the release of personal information from the Patient Data Depository. They may have subsequently revised their consent (cancelled or renewed it). The figure does not show the number of consents currently in effect.